Saint Vincent Seminary
Master of Divinity, Nonordination
Master of Divinity
Nonordination Track
Three to four-year program
Four major areas of study:
• Sacred Scripture
• Systematic Theology
• Church History
• Pastoral Studies

As a Master of Divinity student, you will:
• Learn the doctrinal heritage of the Roman Catholic Church and be able to share it through coursework, formation conferences, and structured faith sharing
• Develop leadership skills
• Form a commitment to lifelong learning

Admissions Requirements
• Bachelor’s degree
• 30 credits of philosophy and 12 credits in Judeo-Christian theology
• 2 semesters of Latin
• Meeting with Academic Dean
• 3 letters of recommendation
“The purpose of the Master of Divinity [non-ordination] degree is to prepare persons for general pastoral and religious leadership responsibilities in congregations and other settings. Because of its breadth, it is the recommended degree for admission to the Doctor of Ministry degree program and toward advanced programs oriented to theological research and teaching.”—The Association of Theological Schools, Bulletin 50, Part 1, 2012, G-39.

Due to its 100-credit requirement, this degree is of interest primarily to those who want a more profound or deeper theological education than they would obtain from a regular master of arts degree program.

Join your brothers and sisters in Christ and train together to become a person who will serve the Catholic Church.
